Living in Sodom: A Case Study Part I — The Protection of Daughters

Contributed by Scott Brown Friday, 29 April 2005

As we survey the Scriptures, we find that the protection of daughters reached a low point in Lot's household in Sodom. There are times in history that are better or worse for daughters, and this slice of history was one of the low watermarks. The account of Lot and his daughters is found in Genesis 19:4-11: Read More
